

Hunger and Health

Intended Outcomes of this Hunger and Health Conversation:

1. To generate a sense of mutual curiosity, respect and appreciation among those of differing cultural and economic backgrounds and viewpoints.
2. To bring forth trust and courage to genuinely express and actively appreciate one another's authentic revealing of values, principles, and sense of purpose.
3. To listen and actively support the discovery of common interest and concern and use that discovery for civic engagement.
4. To be open and curious about all perspectives and see what can be learned from listening to one another, rather than debating differing opinions on any topic or issue.
5. To inspire a sense of openness, willingness and even partnership for further connecting or cooperating in some way.
6. To foster a sense of confidence and willingness in participants to take initiative to reach out to those they usually avoid and engage in solutions and societal problems.
